

This week at Kloodle. 30/09/2013

Employers will be able to sign up and generate their profiles on kloodle as of this week.

This will allow them to create a basic company profile, update statuses, create blog posts and (all importantly) create job adverts to appear on the kloodle Jobs Board. Students will be able to access their profiles as of next week.

Kloodle Ranking and Search will appear in Beta a short time afterwards, along with news feed and targeted job adverts and push notifications. The KloodleApp will be ready by November 1st.

As these developmental milestones keep rolling in, we ask, as always, for your feedback through the many social lines that society now offers. Tweet, Facebook, Carrier Pigeon - all valid channels to hear your lovely thoughts on our early site.

Here's to a busy week!
